What pairs well with lobster rolls, ice cream or even pancakes? A sweeping view of the bay. But waterfront dining season is a blink-and-you'll-miss-it opportunity. Better take advantage: Here are nine of our favorite Hamptons restaurants on the water that dish up tasty food and A+ views.

1. LA FIN

Run, don't walk to the newly opened La Fin. In the former space of Swallow East, Le Fin dishes out French inspired farm-to-table cuisine all day long. The crepes, lobster lettuce wraps and fluke credo are musts. Did we mention they have more than 100 bottles of wine? We'll see you on the deck for a glass or two.

2. THE BELL & ANCHOR

It would be easy to drive by Sag Harbor's The Bell & Anchor without a passing glance. The little shack doesn't look like much from the outside but inside is a cozy, upscale restaurant serving simple, but delicious seafood options with views of the harbor.

MANNA AT LOBSTER INN

3. MANNA AT LOBSTER INN

It's not Hamptons season until you've had a few lobster rolls. Make at least one of them from the new Manna at Lobster Inn. Whether you want to sit indoors or out, at the bar or in the lounge you'll find them all with water views. The eclectic menu of sustainable seafood options including that lobster roll, but also a trout carbonara (give it a try) and lighter options like a charred Cobb salad. Save room for the brownie waffle dessert.

THE BEACON

Gather your girlfriends and head to the upper deck of Sag Harbor's The Beacon. There's no better place to catch up. This year, they're offering a two-course meal for $75. Need help ordering? You won't regret getting the Shrimp Tacos and Lobster Rigatoni.

CRABBY JERRY'S

5. CRABBY JERRY'S

Not that you'd ever get tired of Hamptons dining, but if you need a change of pace, you'll find a waterside breakfast more than worth the drive at Crabby Jerry's in Greenport. Pair that Lobster & Egg Taco with bubbly mimosa and then spend the day exploring the quieter fork.

The new all-inclusive Grass Pass gives day visitors access to a plethora of amenities including beachfront food and beverage services.

7. NAVY BEACH

Grab a Ginger Thomas, a refreshing vodka, ginger syrup, cucumber and lime concoction, sink your toes in the sand of the private beach, and enjoy some of the best sunsets on the Eastern Seaboard over a casual seafood dinner (the Maryland crab cakes are delicious) at Navy Beach. Reservations only this season, so get on it.
